Online Resources

If you have internet service you can access most of our online services from the comfort of your own home. Some of our many popular online resources include digital magazines, newspapers, Consumer Reports, downloadable ebooks and audiobooks, and the popular learning platform Lynda.com. All you need to access these is your library card!

Library Home Service

For homebound residents of Kamloops we offer free delivery of library materials. Call 250-554-1124 for more information or to register.

Centre for Equitable Library Access (CELA)

Patrons with a print disability can gain access to over 500,000 professionally produced audiobooks and braille in accessible formats. Contact your local library to register.

Of course to get the complete library experience you'll want to visit one of our branches across the Regional District. There you'll find our full collections, bookable meeting rooms and all manner of fabulous programming. Check www.tnrl.ca, call, or better yet visit your local branch to find out what's happening near you!
